[illegible] SOLDIERS

Congress has just passed a law giving a Pension of $8 per month to all Soldiers of the War of 1812, who served 14 days or were in battle—and the same pension to the widows of all such soldiers.
This entitles all to a pension who have received Land Warrants.
All desiring the pension can obtain it, by applying to me in person at my office, or by letter.
I have all the old Rolls, on which is borne the names of all soldiers of the War of 1812, with the place and length of service and date of discharge, and all facts, and I can give full and exact information in every case.
Also a record of most of the Land Warrants granted to these soldiers.
No person, east of Portland, has these rolls, except myself and A. J. Chapman, Esq., of Bangor,—he has equal facilities for obtaining these pensions. He was formerly a clerk in my office.

HOW TO MANAGE A BUTTER DAIRY

A Massachusetts dairyman who had attained a high reputation as a practical butter maker at home, lately informed us that, from two hours spent with a brother dairyman, in an evening conversation after one of the sessions of a New York State Dairymen's convention held last winter, he learned more about handling butter and the philosophy of dairy practice than he had ever known before. Judging by the high quality of the butter previously made, we can hardly believe that the gentleman's assertion is quite fair to himself, yet we all know that people sometimes do acquire a faculty for performing certain kinds of work without being able to tell how they do it, or why they do it in a certain manner, that is, they acquire the practice without fully and clearly mastering the philosophy or theories connected with that practice.

There are thousands of dairywomen who are very successful with dairy work during the favorable weather for butter making in June and September. They make a quality of butter, then, which they are proud of, and which they like to remember and refer to when discussing housekeeping or farming with their friends, but not one in twenty of them can take a mess of cream produced or gathered under unfavorable conditions, and make from it a nice churning of butter, or tell definitely and clearly why the cream will not make a prime, sweet article. It is too true that the success in the majority of cases among butter makers has been blundered into. The fact that butter could be made from cream at all, was first discovered by accident, and butter making ever since has been far too much the result of accident.

Within the past few years many educated men have been turning their attention to the theory of butter making, and have searched long and faithfully to discover, if possible, the many whys connected with the practice of making butter and cheese from the milk of the cow, and their labors have not been without their reward. There is no more absolute knowledge about dairy methods now, and that knowledge—thanks to the several dairymens' associations and the press—is more generally diffused than ever before. Dairy goods are beginning to be made by men who may honestly rank with those who are engaged in the manufacture of cotton or woolen goods, with the workers in gold, silver or iron, with those who can take a quantity of raw material and feel certain of bringing out finished work according to a specified standard or contract. Mr. S. E. Lewis, the writer of the following letter, which we find in the Utica Herald, is one of those dairymen who can count upon success from the start, and can give the why and wherefore for the methods they pursue:—

"In giving my views as to the best manner of conducting or managing a 'butter dairy,' I would say that I shall confine myself mostly to practical and experimental knowledge, as to handling and manufacturing of milk into butter. Perhaps at no period has the subject of manufacturing of milk into proper food been so much agitated and discussed, as at this time. Science and practical knowledge seem to be combining and working together to this end.

"The manufacturing of milk into cheese and butter are two distinct trades. I have often heard it asserted by cheese makers, that it required no skill to manufacture butter. If they had said that it required no skill to manufacture poor butter, I should have agreed with them. It requires a knowledge of the business, and good sound judgment to make a keeping article of gilt-edge butter. I mean butter that will stand atmospheric changes, and retain its flavor. The best skilled butter maker cannot make a fine article of butter, unless he has nice flavored milk to make it from. Hence you see the necessity of having proper food for the cows. For it has been well said, that the value of milk for butter-making depends greatly upon the quality and supply of food the cow has. If the cow is forced to drink impure, stagnant water, this also will affect the purity and flavor of the butter. I have seen milk tainted where the cows had proper food, by uncleanness in milking. And I am convinced that the quality of the salt used has a good deal to do with the flavor, of the butter. The butter-maker must give his attention to all these things if he wishes to make a fine article of butter.

"Milk rooms should be so constructed that they can be well ventilated, so that all vapors that arise from the milk while cooling can pass off. Strictly fine butter cannot be made from milk kept or set in a damp, unventilated room.

"The heating of milk before setting, so far as my experimenting has been, does not facilitate the rising of the cream, whether the milk be set in water or out of water. I am satisfied that tainted milk can be improved by heating. But cream made from heated milk frequently has the heated flavor.

"The question of deep or shallow setting of milk, as to which will produce the most butter from a given quantity of milk, is being much agitated at the present time. Some five years ago, I spent a whole season in making experiments and observing the rising of cream upon milk. My attention was called to it, when working in a creamery, by the increase and decrease of the quantity of butter from about the same quantity of milk on different days. There was a difference of from two to four pounds to every hundred pounds of butter. I followed up my investigations until I found that the difference was caused by the different conditions of the atmosphere. I found that in a dry atmosphere, wind a little to the northwest, with a rising barometer, that the cream would rise clean in the milk, without regard to its depth. But in an unfavorable condition of the atmosphere, wind south, blowing up a storm, with a falling barometer, that condition of the atmosphere that usually sours up milk; that the cream did not rise clean in the milk, and that in this condition of the atmosphere it required a much longer time for the cream to rise. From this you will readily perceive, that milk when not protected from the acid, or from souring, in this unfavorable condition of the atmosphere, that the percentage of the cream is lost in the sour milk. In extreme weather, frequently the acid will commence developing itself in the milk before the animal heat leaves it. In this condition of the milk, which is usually termed 'wheying off,' you get but little cream, and what you do get makes an inferior quality of butter.

"By what is termed setting milk in water, not only is the milk protected from the acid, or souring, for a much longer time, but it greatly facilitates the rising of the cream. Milk set from eight to twenty inches deep in cold water, when the atmosphere is warmer than the water, will rise as much cream in two hours as milk of the same depth not set in water will in twenty-four hours, or even thirty-six hours. I would recommend the use of the large pans, with cold water about them, and set the milk from six to ten inches deep.

"In skimming the cream off from the milk there should always be milk enough skimmed up with cream to give the butter when churned a bright clear look. Butter churned from clear cream, with little or no milk in it, will usually have an oily or shiny look. This shows that the grain of the butter is injured, which affects the keeping qualities of the butter.

"Cream should be churned in its first acid to make strictly fine butter. Cream should not be allowed to pass into what is called the second acid and whey, as is frequently the case.

"Cream skimmed from different or several milkings, should never be mixed at once and churned in the same churn, but should be allowed to stand mixed from eight to ten hours before being churned; then the cream will be as one cream, of the same chemical condition, and the butter will all come at the same time, clean from the buttermilk. If not always allowed to stand after being mixed, before being churned, the butter will not all come at one time in the cream. Hence a loss of a per cent. of butter in the buttermilk. Cream should not be put to churning at so high a temperature that the butter will be white and soft, nor at so low a temperature that it will have to churn half a day to come. Cream should be put to churning at a temperature from fifty-eight to sixty-two, varying according to conditions of the cream and atmosphere.

"Butter should not be overworked, so as to destroy the grain; neither should there be any buttermilk left in it. I never allow my butter to be churned until it is gathered compact in the buttermilk. Stop churning when the butter is in a granulated state, then turn the buttermilk out of the churn through a sieve; a hair sieve is the best adapted for this purpose. This leaves no waste of butter in the buttermilk—letting the butter remain in the churn; then wash it by turning the water upon the butter will separate the butter in its granulated state. Fill the churn half full or more with water, then stir up a little in the water and you have rinsed the buttermilk out of the butter without any working or washing of the butter. Take the butter from off of the water, using the ladle and sieve. Put the butter upon the worker, and as you are putting on and working in the salt, you gather the butter compact for the first time.

"This, you will perceive, is a saving of time, and of handling of the butter up to this point. There is a difference of opinion as to the number of times that butter should be worked after salting, before packing for market. I always work my butter twice after salting, even when it comes in the best possible condition. I work light, using care that my ladle or lever does not slip or slide on the butter. It wants time for the salt to dissolve and expel any and all foreign matter, and the salt will not properly dissolve unless the butter is worked a little.

"When there is buttermilk left in the butter when worked, or when the butter comes at too high a temperature, being white and soft, it is a great mistake to try to force the milk out by much working. In this case work light at intervals of from twelve to twenty-four hours, and as many times as is necessary, until the salt has done its work, and your butter is in a nice condition for the market.

"I cannot give any correct rule for the amount of salt to a pound of butter, for as some churnings will retain more buttermilk or water than others, this of course will dissolve and work out much more salt, so that it would require an additional quantity. Good judgment is the only safe guide in salting butter properly. In conclusion, I would say to those making experiments with milk, that to arrive at any correct or definite results, such experiments must be made in the same conditions of the atmosphere and of the same surroundings.—N. E. Farmer.

THE GENEVA AWARD.

The late Court of Commissioners of the Alabama claims having allowed the claims to the amount of $6,113,880, there is a balance of $9,316,120, for the distribution of which the present Congress has been called upon to provide. The majority of the House Judiciary Committee (Representatives Knott, Lynde, Harris of Virginia, Harbridge, Stenger and Culberson) conclude that it would be better to commit the adjudication and determination of all questions touching its distribution to the Court of Claims in the first instance, with the right of any party aggrieved to appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, with authority to render a judgment in favor of each claimant, who was an actual sufferer by the violation of the laws of neutrality by Great Britain for such amounts as, in the opinion of the court, he may be justly entitled to under the treaty and award according to the principles of justice, equity and law of nations, leaving the court unrammelled by any principle of allowance, exclusion, inclusion or distribution, adopted in chapter 459 of the Forty-third Congress, or by the tribunal created by that law.

The minority of the committee are Representatives McMahon, Frye, B. F. Butler, Conger and Lapham. They propose that the court of commissioners of Alabama claims be revived for eighteen months, and that the first class of claims to be adjudicated shall be for those described in section 11 of the original act creating that court, not already adjudicated, and for claims directly resulting from damage done on the high seas by Confederate cruisers during the late rebellion, including vessels and cargoes attacked and taken on the high seas, or pursued by them therefrom, although the loss or damage occurred within four miles of the shore.

In cases of the loss of a whaling vessel and outfit the court of claims shall allow, in addition to the compensation provided for in said original act, the sum of ten per cent. in lieu of freight, upon the value of said vessel and outfit as found by said court, and upon all judgments heretofore rendered under said act, for the loss of a whaling vessel and outfit there shall be allowed said sum of ten per cent. upon awards as made by the court, with six per cent. interest thereon from the day from which said original award bore interest until the date of payment. The second class shall be for claims, for additional interest upon the judgments which have been awarded and decreed by said court of Alabama claims under said original act, such interest to be computed in each case from the time from from which interest was allowed in the original judgments, at the rate of two per cent. per annum in addition thereto, to the time of payment, as hereinafter provided; and upon all judgments to be hereafter rendered upon claims of the first class, as herein described, interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per cent. per annum, instead of four per cent. as provided in the original act. The third class shall be for claims for the payment of premiums for war risks, whether paid to corporations, agents or individuals after the sailing of any Confederate cruisers, in determining which it shall be the duty of the court to deduct any sum in any way received by or paid to the claimant in diminution of the amount paid for any such premium, so that the actual loss only shall be allowed. These reports have been recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary. It will be, seen that the majority report was agreed to by only one majority.

A young Pembroke gentleman who accompanied a young lady home the other evening, narrowly escaped drowning. A hogshead of water, being set in the ground near the young lady's residence, it was not observed by the young man, it being very dark, and into it he went but succeeded in crawling out in a sad condition.

Twelve million feet of spruce and other logs are in the stream above the mills in Presque Isle, and are now being sluiced through the dam. They will be ten days in passing that point.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The Auburn shoe business is nearly abreast of last year at this time. In light goods it is quite good; very little is doing in heavy work. Over 1000 cases were shipped the past week.

Logs are now coming into the booms daily. The rear of the Lewiston drive is at Rumford Falls. The Lisbon drive is just coming out of Ellis river. There are about twenty millions of logs now afloat for Lewiston. The drive is about three weeks ahead of last year. The local lumber trade is light, but there is a fair demand for shipment.

The new iron bridge for the Maine Central, will arrive on Tuesday next. It will put in place over little Androscoggin in Auburn on the Sunday following. The superstructure is to be made ready for quick work.

Aroostook.

Last Sunday week while Mr. George H. Garrison of Fort Fairfield, was at work clearing the logs from the bridge piers he had one of his feet jammed quite severely, by a log falling on it.

A Presque Isle correspondent of the Aroostook Valley Sunrise writes: The season is unusually promising. The snow is all gone frost all out of the ground, large fields have already been ploughed and sowed with wheat, grass unusually large for the season, the thermometer ranging near or quite to the sixties for several days past both day and night. Farmers will put in a large amount of seed this year.

Cumberland.

Friday acting Harbor Master Captain Ben Jones, and policeman Gibbon discovered a schooner laden with gun-powder lying at Portland Pier, in close proximity to a pile driver from which a shower of sparks occasionally issued. Thinking the chances for an item for the newspapers were too great, the Harbor Master ordered the craft out into the stream.

An employe of Burrows Brothers at their mill, in Portland, had the misfortune to cut off three of his fingers in a machine.

A lady named Poindexter, who resides at Portland, fell against a hot stove Friday morning, burning her face terribly.

Kennebec.

It appears from the New York Times of April 27, that Frazer, Theophilus and Charles B. Gilman of Waterville, who were indicted in New York, on Friday last, for a felonious assault on their brother's coachman, were acquitted of the charge in court of general sessions last week. A tor hearing the facts, the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" without leaving their seats. They found the defendants justified on the ground of self-defence.

Somerset.

On Saturday the boom above the mill at Harmony gave way and let loose a large quantity of logs belonging to Ira Hurd. They have edged all the way for several miles below among bushes, on intervales and in jams on the stream. The loss, or damage to Mr. Hurd will be nearly $300.

Washington.

Pembroke has a heroine in a young lady who, to use the language of the Eastport Sentinel, "rescued her grandfather from a dangerous position, the latter being in the act of removing a hen house, the roof unexpectedly came down upon the old man, and but for the assistance rendered by the before mentioned heroine, the old fellow would have been likely to have received serious injury."

Mr. Joseph Nichols of Cherryfield was thrown from his carriage last week, and considerably hurt. The horse shied at a bad place in the road.

The Republican says: Last Wednesday, about 11 o'clock, Mr. Sanford Burnham's horse and wagon was standing in the street in front of W. I. Bennett's store at Machias when the horse took fright and ran away. The noise and rushing started another horse and truck, wagon on Chandler's corner and he must needs run. This started a third, and he joined in the chorus. When the first animal was in front of R. T. Crane's drug store, George Ratter sprang out to stop him, when the second one came plunging along a struck Ratter, knocking him down, running over him and injuring him severely. One wheel of Mr. Burnham's wagon is now more.

IS IT ANOTHER "STILL HUNT."

[From the N. Y. Herald.]

Rumors are gaining currency, and are beginning to be believed, that Mr. Tilden's concealed hand is at the bottom of the recent Florida confessions; that he has employed a similar secret service in Louisiana; that a movement of some sort is soon to be made in Congress by his inspiration; that his lieutenants at the capital are awaiting for his final instructions, and that a special agent or intermediary is now in this city to receive them. Such rumors gain credence by Mr. Tilden's silence and by the reputation he has acquired for slyness and underhand methods. If he is thus plotting and conspiring it is evident that he has not taken Mr. Charles Francis Adams into his confidence. Mr. Adams is not the kind of man to act as an abettor or accomplice in a subtle political intrigue. Whatever he consents to do he does openly and above board, playing no game with cards in his sleeves. No man has expressed a more indignant sense of the frauds of 1876 than Mr. Adams; nobody has expressed a more contemptuous opinion of the character and capacity of Mr. Hayes; but he declares it to be his opinion—an opinion formed after much reflection and consideration—that it is better to maintain the status quo and make no attempts to disturb Mr. Hayes in the possession of his office. The country would think better of Mr. Tilden if he would signify his acquiescence in this deliberate judgment of the ablest and wisest of his friends. For the same reason that a party in interest is not permitted to serve on a jury; for the same reason that a judge who has tried a case in the Court below is disqualified to sit in review, Mr. Tilden is the least fit of any eminent citizen in the country to form an impartial judgment for himself or to guide the opinion of others in a matter respecting which he is so sore and disappointed. It may seem a small thing to him, in comparison with his ambitious hopes, to Mexicanize our institutions; but on that subject the judgment of Mr. Adams is more disinterested, and therefore, safer. If Mr. Tilden is guiding a plot let him openly take the responsibility of it. But if he agrees with Mr. Adams let him say so, either in person or through some friend, and put a stop to these discreditable surmises. If he is still a candidate for the unexpired part of Mr. Hayes' term he ought not to skulk behind disguises and be ashamed to own it. The people of this country have no partiality for secretive, cunning politics, and when so many rumors are flying Mr. Tilden ought to define his position. There is very high authority for saying that "he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest."

In view of the following extract from the Southern Planter Farmer we may ask, "Does conciliation conciliate?"—

In everything but the fact that its territory has a place within the domain of the United States, New England is as foreign to us in the South as Russia; and we think it would be well that it should ever remain so.

These, be it remembered, are comments on the gushing letter of Dr. Loring of Massachusetts, descriptive of his visit to Virginia with President Hayes, and are called forth by his declaration in that epistle, that the South is willing to accord the black men their rights. This is termed in the same article from which we have quoted above, "snivelling." Verily, the genial doctor has eaten dirt to little purpose.—Concord Monitor.

Reports have been circulated in New York to the effect that General John C. Fremont and family had been in actual personal suffering through destitution and lack of food. Friends of the family deny this, and say that while General Fremont is in straightened circumstances and has had to give up his home, his library, and even his family pictures, the family is far from actual want. At the time the household furniture and library were sold by the Sheriff, the General's most intimate friends did not know he was in straightened circumstances, the pride of the family having kept that fact secret. When actually driven out of his house, General Fremont left the city, without explanation, and sought employment elsewhere. He is now in Washington, it is stated, where Mrs. Fremont will soon join him.

A correspondent of the London Times complains that American competition is adversely felt in the hardware trade in all the colonies of Great Britain. Not only in Canada, but in Australia, and New Zeland the United States manufacturers are sending in not only edge tools, implements and wood ware, but plated goods and ammunition, which are preferred there because of their superior quality. One Birmingham house se is £4000 per month of American goods in this line in the colonies, because the purchasers prefer them.

A Michigan paper makes the pleasant announcement to lumber dealers that all kinds of lumber have advanced all over the State from $1 to $3 a thousand, and that manufacturers are sanguine that the advance will hold throughout the season. This rise chiefly results from the difficulty experienced through the winter in getting the logs to the skids, owing to the scarcity of snow, and to make up for this winter failure some of the lumbermen have determined to try the trucking process—a new and very doubtful experiment.

Prince Gortschakoff, it is said, represents the old school of Russian diplomacy, and General Ignatieff the new. Gortschakoff's plan is to "work silently toward a purpose, never revealed until accomplished." Ignatieff would use the armies in the field and drive straight at the object. As Todleben, of the old school, has been appointed Commander in Roumelia, it is believed that Gortschakoff is to have his way, and hide his real designs behind studied courtesy to the Turks and conciliatory words to England.

The Superintendent of Castle Garden says that he is constantly sending ablebodied male emigrants into the country as farm hands, at $8.00 a month and board, and they are very glad to go; but that the most ignorant, half-clothed and wholly inexperienced girls from Ireland, resent as an insult any such offer to do housework, or any proposition short of full servant's wages in the city.

A West Virginia editor recalls the fact he has many a time jumped Elk River in that State while in pursuit of game, and asserts that it goes dry half the year. He makes this remark because the House has just voted $5000 for its improvement. It should add another appropriation to furnish the river with water.

A BAD DAY FOR DOUGHFACES.

[From the Boston Traveller.]

When the editor of the Augusta, Maine, Journal declared the opinion that the late letter of Jeff. Davis, glorifying the defunct confederacy, was "the real voice of the South," the Springfield Republican went into hysterics and declared that that editor was a "worse offender than Jeff. Davis," and that he had falsified Southern public opinion. The young doughfaces who run the Republican are entitled to their opinion, as little as it is worth, but when they proceed to back it with evidence they fail signally. For example, they said:

There are, of course, Bourbon papers in the South as well as the North, but the representative organs of Southern opinion—such papers as the Richmond (Va.) State, the Raleigh (N. C.) News, the Charleston (N. C.) News and Courier, the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution, the Augusta, (Ga.) Chronicle and Constitutionalist, the Memphis, (Tenn.) Avalanche, the New Orleans, (La.) Picayune and Times—so far from "warmly approving" what Jeff Davis said, have passed it by with utter silence.

Yes; after printing it, they could afford to pass it by in "utter silence." But unfortunately for this argument, at about the same time the Republican was gushing thus about "the representative organs of Southern opinion," the most conspicuous one of them—the Atlanta Constitution Senator Gordon's home organ,—was uttering this beautiful sentiment:

The Democrats can carry every county in the State [of South Carolina]—even Beaufort and Charleston—if they only determine to do so. Republican and race majorities can be overcome everywhere, as they were overcome two years ago in Edgefield, Abbeville, Aiken and Barnwell.

This is rather ominous talk for a "representative organ" to make in the interest of "conciliation," and yet it is representative of all the lot quoted.

But again, unfortunately, the conservative and neutral New York Herald, about the hour when the Springfield organ was doing service for the Southern best blood, was gathering this conclusion from its search for information:

In reading hundreds of exchanges in which Southern Decoration Day speeches, letters and comments are published, one gets the knowledge that nowhere in the South has the political spirit of the so-called "rebellion" been beaten. All the speeches, letters and comments, in enthusiastic, sadly sentimental style, show that the "patriotism," the argument for "principle," the desire for some kind of victory, have not ceased. "We were not victorious, but we ought to have been. God bless the —South."

And again, unfortunately for this conciliationist authority, the information comes from the South that copies of Jeff. Davis's loyal letter have been printed and framed, and are selling rapidly throughout the South. Altogether, the doughfaces lately seem to have been rolling in the dirt for nothing.

Crop Prospects. The New York Times publishes reports regarding the condition of the growing crops from points in 28 States and 1 Territory. The task was performed by persons having a special aptitude for its careful accomplishment. With the solitary exception of Colorado, every State, from Maine to California, reports the most flattering prospects for an abundant yield of every product of the soil. The enormous increase of the acreage of land under wheat, and the truly magnificent yield of that grain promised from States like Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota, furnish some of the most striking indications of the pace at which agricultural development is proceeding in the United States.

The grand proximate cause of Dyspepsia is debility of the stomach. The torpidity of the liver is apparent from the small quantity of bile discharged from that organ, and also by a dull pain on the right side. Under whichever form Appears there is always languor or debility, exertion fatigues, the pulse is weak, the sleep disturbed, the extremities cold, the tongue for the most part furred or covered with a creamy mucous in the morning. No person with a constipated or irregular state of the bowels can have sound health.

It is evident, that some gentle laxative, slightly stimulant to the mucous membrane of the intestines, joined with a tonic, that increases the secretions of the liver and gradually strengthening the stomach, must be a reasonable combination and reach the case. That is a combination will do; for proof of which we are happy to be able to refer those heretofore disappointed, to the most reliable physicians, who have long used this remedy in their practice; and also to every apothecary by whom the Peristaltic Lozenges are sold.

These Lozenges will repair the mischief caused by the excessive use of the "Patent Pills," with which the country has for years been flooded.

DOMESTIC NEWS.

FORTY-FIFTH CONGRESS—Second Session.

WASHINGTON, May 6.

Senate.

Mr. Sargent from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the pension appropriation bill with amendments.

Mr. Allison from the same Committee reported the Indian appropriation bill with amendments and were both placed on the calendar.

The President laid before the Senate the House bill to forbid further retirement of legal tenders. It was read the first time by title that it might be referred to the Committee on Finance. Mr Cockrell objected to its reference and moved that the bill be read a second time, his object being to have the bill passed without reference. Mr. Morrill objected to a second reading of the bill to-day and it was laid over.

The Senate took up the bill to repeal the bankrupt law and Mr. Beck submitted an amendment striking out the first of January 1879 as the time when the repeal should take effect and insert an amendment so as to have the law repealed from and after the passage of the act.

The bill to repeal the Bankrupt Law was discussed until the expiration of the morning hour when the bill to repeal the specie resumption act came up, on which Mr. Gordon was entitled to the floor.

On motion of Mr. Thurman the bill to repeal the specie resumption act was laid aside that the Senate might continue consideration of the bill to repeal the Bankrupt Law. Mr. Thurman then consented that the latter bill should be laid aside informally in order that Mr. Gordon might address the Senate in favor of the repeal of the specie resumption act with the understanding that consideration of the Bankrupt bill be resumed as soon as he concluded. Mr. Gordon then spoke at length in favor of repealing the specie resumption act.

House.

Among the bills introduced was one to regulate emigration, making it unlawful to bring to the United State any alien who may be a pauper, lunatic or convict.

Mr. Thompson introduced a bill declaring that all propositions to change or modify the tariff law are injurious and detrimental to the general welfare of the people and that it is unwise to waste time at present in the discussion of the Wood tariff bill. He moved its reference to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. Wood moved reference to the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. Page moved reference to the Committee of the Whole and his motion was agreed to 135 to 18.

Mr. Jones introduced a bill for the appointment of a commission to be called the farmers and stock breeders commission and to consist of a veterinary surgeon and two practical stock breeders at an annual salary of $2,500 each, to have charge of the investigation of contagious diseases of farm stock, their causes, means of prevention, cure, etc., and to report from time to time measures to prevent the importation of such diseases from abroad and the spread of contagion.

Mr. Shelley at the request of Messrs. Robbins and Tucker moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill reducing the tax on snuff and on chewing and smoking tobacco to 16 cents a pound, on cigars to five dollars per thousand, on cigarettes weighing not more than 3½ pounds to the thousand $1.25 per thousand and weighing over 3½ pounds $5 per thousand. The motion was not agreed to, yeas 120 nays 115. Not two thirds.

The House proceeded to consideration of the bill establishing a permanent form of Government for the district of Columbia. The bill in its amended form remove the property qualifications in regard to the Commissioners and members of the Council and abolishes the poll tax. It also provides for the payment of interest of the 365 bonds, but declares nothing in the act shall be construed as an acknowledgement of any liability on the part of the United States to pay the principal otherwise than as provided in the act for the issuance of those bonds.

Mr. Dunnell moved to amend the clause requiring those elected Commissioners to have been actual residents of the District ten years, by making it five years. Agreed to.

Several other amendments were offered and rejected.

The committee's amendment striking out the property qualification clause for members of the council was agreed to. Also striking out the clause requiring voters to have paid the poll tax. The committee also reported an amendment limiting the rate of taxation to one dollar and seventy-five cents per $100 of real and personal property.

Mr. Buckner proposed to make the limit two dollars.

Mr. Cox of New York, and Mr. Cox of Ohio, suggested that as the two dollars a year tax was the limit therefore Congress would be called upon to appropriate a like sum.

In the course of the discussion on this point the question of the liability of the Government for the 365 bonds came up, Blackburn insisting that under existing law the Government was liable for the interest, but was not liable for the principal and Cox of New York and Cox of Ohio, denied the liability of the Government for either principal or interest.

Without disposing of the question the House adjourned. No proposition was offered during the session looking to the investigation of alleged electoral frauds.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Communist Organization in the Coal Regions.

NEW YORK, May 6. A Pittston despatch says that the new organization of communistic tendencies permeates the whole coal producing portion of the State. They propose to wage relentless war on capital, until they effect an equal distribution of the goods of this world. The nationality most largely represented is Irish, though there are a few straggling Germans among them. Railroad companies are taking extra precautionary measures. Upon two recent occasions ties were found fastened to the road bed in such a way as to throw trains from the track had they not been discovered. The leading characters are recognized as the most reckless members of the ancient order of Hibernians who have been excommunicated from the church.

A mine superintendent says that for some weeks past he has noticed unusual and mysterious activity among some factions of his employes, and strangers from abroad have been among his men on some secret mission. Another employing miner unhesitatingly stated that he had become acquainted with such facts as to alarm him, and been impressed with the necessity of taking immediate steps to protect his property from the despotism of communistic tyrants.

Station agent Donlan, at Locust Gap, was beaten by these new communists, and his body left on the track, but was discovered before the train came along. In some regions they call themselves Knights of Labor; in others, Game Cock Clubs, and in other places Socialist Associations, and they have rifle clubs which drill nightly. It is believed from what can be ascertained from miners and iron-workers that a grand and extensive strike is to be inaugurated about the 15th instant.

Strikes are in progress in Shamokin and Lehigh regions, and the officers of the Miners' Unions assert that this is but the beginning of the end.

JUDGE WHITAKER.

Communications Submitted to the Senate.

WASHINGTON, May 6. The President sent to the Senate to-day communications from the Attorney General and Secretary of the Treasury in response to House resolution calling for information in regard to liabilities of W. R. Whitaker arising under his administration of the office of United States Assistant Treasurer and Collector of Internal revenues from 1863 to 1865, and as to measures taken by the Government to enforce a settlement of them. Secretary Sherman states suit for $11,182 is now pending against Whitaker on his account as Collector of Internal Revenue from 1863 to 1865. It is also stated that while Whitaker was in office as Assistant Treasurer at New Orleans between Oct. 15th '66 and May 10th '67 a deficit of $1,077,797, occurred which was subsequently reduced to $630,381. The deficit according to Whitaker's statement arose from accepting from his predecessor Assistant Treasurer May, about $500,000 of certificates of the 1st National Bank of New Orleans and counting them as cash on hand besides which he had afterwards received a number of certified checks of May then President of the bank, who converted them into notes and bills of exchange which were counted as cash. At the time the deficit was discovered a suit for the recovery of the deficit was commenced in the United States Circuit Court in 1868, and upon trial in 1872, judgment was rendered in favor of the defendant, Wm. Grant, special counsel employed by the Government, reporting the jury, probably based the finding of the fact upon the act of settlement between the late Assistant Treasurer May and the United States, whereby the debt due the Government was discharged by assignment of all May's property. There was he alleges no error in the verdict and no bill of exceptions asked for. He also states that all the defendants were insolvent. [Note—May was bondsman for Whittaker.] Attorney General Devens reports that there were three criminal indictments against Whittaker. The first charged embezzlement of $1,058,421, on which he was tried and acquitted. The remaining indictments were for same offence as to particular sums of money, apparently a portion of the larger amount, for the embezzlement of which Whittaker had been acquitted, and General Grant thought it was not advisable or proper to try them and asked authority to dismiss them. Devens directed him to consult with U. S. Attorney Lacey and left it to their joint discretion to enter a nol pros if they agreed that such a course was advisable. Orders to dismiss the indictments were soon afterwards entered and the Attorney General in conclusion says he has no reason to doubt that Messrs. Lacey and Grant exercised their discretion wisely.

FOREIGN NEWS.

THE [ILLEGIBLE]

THE Usual Reports and Rumors.

THREATENED PALACE REVOLUTION.

OUTRAGES AND PLUNDERINGS.

A Palace Revolution Threatened.

LONDON, May 2. A Constantinople News correspondent says that another palace revolution is threatened. The conspirators for the overthrow of the Sultan, Abdul Hamid, and the accession of Murad or somebody else, actually fixed on one day last week for the attempt; but fear of Russian interference caused the change in their plans, and the conspirators say they must wait until the Russians go. It is difficult to state what will be the attitude of the Russians in case of a revolution; but there is great danger that the Russian and English troops would come in collision in such an event. English influence is now believed to be uppermost in the counsels of the Sultan, who, between Layard, the British Ambassador pulling one way, and the Russians the other, has anything but a pleasant time. The majority of the Pashas and all of the late ministers are against the Sultan, and the people are sullen and discontented. There have been violent speeches against the tax on bread, which is now at famine prices. The Pachas are all ready to fly at each other's throats. Osman Pasha, for instance, is cursed on all sides by the other Pashas as a fool and by some as a traitor. Without either English or Russian support, the Sultan could not stay on the throne another day. Sultan Abdul Hamid succeeded Murad, his elder brother, who was deposed August 31st, 1876. Sadyk Pacha is certain not to remain chief of the ministry long, though it is difficult to see what English influence would gain by his overthrow.

The News' Constantinople correspondence says: "I have heard that the Porte has sent a note to the Powers maintaining that it cannot evacuate Varna, Shumla and Batoum until the Russians retire and according to the treaty of San Stefano, until the surrender of Adrianople. The Russians, of course, maintain the counter position that they cannot withdraw until the Turks evacuate the fortresses.

Plundering Armenian Villages.

LONDON, May 6. A special from Syria says: News from Kharpool, Turkish Armenia, reports the plundering of 91 Armenian villages in the district of Chemistago, by Dersin Koords. The Ottoman authorities are unable to afford protection. Although the district is greatly impoverished double taxes are demanded. In Gieghi, which lies between Kharpool and Erzeroum, the dearth threatens soon to become a famine.

Fighting and Destroying Villages.

A special from Pera to the Times says advices from Adrianople and Philippopolis to 3d instant, report continued fighting about Haskai, in which district 2 Mohamedan villages have been destroyed. The Russians are laying the blame on the Bulgarians and Bulgarians are laying it on the Russians.

There have been many arrests at Adrianople among the Bulgarians who are accused of complicity in the destruction of the Turkish villages. The Insurgents have not yet descended into the plain further west than Hasko, but the Pomaks (Bulgarians who have been converted to Islamism) of the Dritahana Valley cooperate with the main body of the Insurgents, furnishing a contingent and holding the mountain passes. To counteract this movement a Russian force is marching from Sophia. In the South the Insurgents have taken Bahova and other places. Thirty-eight wounded Russians have been brought to Philippopolis. The main body of Insurgents are estimated at 30,000 exclusive of scattered bands. Many Greeks have joined and there is a communication between leaders and Insurgent bands of Thessaly. There also seems reason to expect that a strong Albanian contingent will join the insurrection.

The Greek Insurgents.

ATHENS, May 6. The British Consuls have induced the Insurgent leaders in Macedonia to accept the same terms as the Thessalians. Volunteers will retain their arms and return to Greece on board a British man-of-war or by land. The native Insurgents will retain arms and return to their homes.

A Servian Military Post.

BELGRADE, May 6. The Servians have established a strong military post at Kustendil on the Mitroyetza and Salonica Railroad. Nine thousand Mohammedans are posted on the mountains to impede communication with old Servia by the frequent raids they make and they commit great outrages in the Servian villages. A force will be sent against them.

A St. Petersburg special to the Vienna Political Correspondence says: Count Schouvaloff comes to St. Petersburg in consequence of his own request to be permitted to report personally respecting pending negotiations.

Schouvaloff's visit to St. Petersburg is merely for a short time. It is believed to be in connection with important negotiations. Should he succeed in bringing to a head a solution he will likely be looked upon as having qualified himself as successor to Gortschakoff.

A Constantinople despatch says: Negotiations in regard to Shumla and Varna continue, but the Russians do not insist at present on evacuation of Batoum.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Reassembling of Parliament.

LONDON, May 6. Parliament reopened to-day after the Easter recess. In the Commons notice was given of various questions regarding the employment of Indian troops, by Geo. Campbell, Vernon Harcourt and others. Campbell's motion comes on to-night. For Northcote in reply to a question by Marquis Hartington said: "I can only say negotiations with Russia continue and it will be highly disadvantageous to the public interest to discuss them now." Northcote further said that the despatch of Indian troops was resolved upon sometime ago but it was not thought necessary to communicate that intention to Parliament. The Chancellor also said that although John Bright was not in the House he (the Chancellor) claimed the right to refer to Bright's charge that the government and Northcote in particular had deceived the House. He hoped Bright would make that charge in the House.

Preparations for War.

A DREAM. The Lewiston Journal says: Although dreams are not generally regarded as fore-warnings, occasionally an instance occurs where the somnolent workings of the brain present realities which were not previously known and are afterward found correct. An instance occurred in Lewiston recently. A young man whose family lives in Orono, and who works in Messrs. Pingree & Co.'s saw-mill, was startled in the midnight of Saturday by the apparition of his child sick, with pale face and moaning bitterly. He related his dream Monday morning to his fellow workmen and expressed fears that the product of his imagination might prove real. The hearers laughed at his fears; but soon he received a letter from home, stating that his child was seriously ill and might die, and requesting him to come.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT. Yesterday afternoon at about six o'clock a man by the name of James Murphey, met with a painful accident while employed in A. H. Babcock's coal shed. At the time of the accident he and two other men were wheeling coal in the run. One of them left his barrow on the staging while he went down to fix a plank and in passing the barrow Murphy struck it and fell from the staging to the floor a distance of about twenty feet. In falling he struck on a beam some five feet below the staging and from that he fell a distance of about ten feet on to another beam, and then to the floor. He was taken up and carried into the office, and a physician sent for, who found that he had broken two or three ribs, and that one of his lungs had been slightly punctured. He was afterwards removed to his house on Warren street and will probably be confined to his bed for some time.

Yesterday W. F. Savage came up in the police court for the larceny of a piece of canvass from a shed on Broad street, last Friday afternoon. He was fined ten dollars and costs and paid.

Coroners Inquest.

Yesterday morning an inquest was held over the body of the infant found on Stillwater Avenue, Sunday afternoon. A wound was discovered on the neck below the right ear, probably made by some sharp instrument, which caused the death of the child. Several witnesses were examined, but nothing of importance was learned from their testimony and the matter remains a mystery. The following is the verdict of the Jury:

An inquisition held at Bangor within the County of Penobscot on the 6th day of May, 1878, before John H. Wilson, one of the coroners of said county, upon the view of the body of an infant child, there lying dead, by the oaths of Sylvester Gordon, James Mayhew, E. M. Blanding, H. N. Hatch, Ara Warren and M. J. Desmond, good and lawful men, who being charged and sworn to inquire for the State, where, how and by what means the said child came to its death upon their oaths say that the said child came to its death about the last day of April, by means of a blow with some instrument, by some person to the jurors unknown. In testimony whereof the said coroner and jurors of the inquest have hereunto set their hands and seal the day and year above said. John H. Wilson, Coroner; H. N. Hatch, Foreman, Ara Warren, S. Gordon, M. J. Desmond; James Mayhew and E. M. Blanding.

From West Waterville.

The masquerade which occurred May night was a great success, and the committee of ladies who had the matter in charge can well congratulate themselves that so respectable and orderly a time resulted from their efforts. Many of the costumes were rich. all were good. About one hundred and seventy-five spectators were present—all who could be accommodated and leave room for the dancers.

Several citizens are making efforts to raise money to be paid the West Waterville Band for weekly out-door concerts the coming season, and thus far have met with very good success. The main object is to assist the Band, as they have always given their services upon all public occasions.

Business is quite good, and the factories are worked to their utmost to fill their scythe orders for the coming hay season. Probably all of them will make as many, some of them more scythes than any previous year. Farmers have made a good beginning in spring work; a few warm days would see most of them well along toward its close. G.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to the question with considerable anxiety. And well they may, for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, asthma, coughs, and colds and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but never the less [?] results of neglected Catarrh bad enough [?] [?] but nothing compared with the dangers to the affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

It can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration is subdued and healed, and the entire membrane is brought into a healthy condition. This remedy acts constitutionally as well as locally, and in this respect, destroying in its course, through the system, the acid poison, the [?] [?] of Catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For eight years I have not breathed through one nostril. I had dropping in the throat, a very bad cough, as ... to be obliged to take a stimulant for it at night to be ore being able to lie down and sleep, and at times so full of ... that matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE
Fitchburg, Oct. 11

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made me familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. E. DERBY

VEGETINE.

I advise all who are suffering as I have suffered to give VEGETINE a trial.

BOSTON, Sept. 9, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS.

Dear Sir,—I have suffered with Scrofulous Humor for seven years, and could get no relief. I have tried everything in the shape of herbs, salves, plasters, &c., but nothing did me any good. I was from my knees to my ankles one mass of sores. I was advised by police officer W. B. Hill, to try Vegetine. I commenced last July, 1876. After taking the second bottle I began to get relief, and the sores to heal up. I was finally reduced to one large ulcer on my right leg, that run so much and looked so bad, that many said I must lose my leg, but, after I had taken fourteen bottles of Vegetine, my leg was all healed up, and I am now as well as ever I was in my life. I consider Vegetine the best cleanser and purifier of the blood, and advise all who may be suffering as I have suffered to give it a trial.

HENRY T. SMITH,
No. 50 Utica St., Boston, Mass.

SCROFULOUS HUMORS.—The Vegetine has cured many cases of Scrofula of five, ten, and twenty years' standing, where the patient has had many physicians, tried many of the known remedies, and, after trying the Vegetine, the common remark is, "It acts differently, works differently, from any medicine I have ever taken." Vegetine will cleanse scrofula from the system. Try it.

VEGETINE.

I CAN RECOMMEND.

SOMERVILLE, June 10, 1875.

DR. H. R. STEVENS —

Dear Sir,—It is with great pleasure I can recommend in the highest terms your Vegetine as a purifier of the blood. Having met with a painful injury of the spine and sciatica nerve over fourteen years ago, my ankle has been swollen a great deal of the time, and very painful. By using Vegetine, I find great relief, as it gives a higher tone to the blood, improving my health; and I hope that all the human family in a suffering condition will avail themselves at once of this most valuable remedy. Yours most respectfully,

WM. STINEHERST,
Station Agent, Somerville, Mass.

"VEGETINE," says a Boston physician, "has no equal as a blood purifier. Hearing of its many wonderful cures, after all other remedies had failed, I visited the laboratory and convinced myself of its genuine merit. It is prepared from barks, roots and herbs, each of which is highly effective, and they are compounded in such a manner as to produce astonishing results."

VEGETINE.

Completely Cured Me.

NEWPORT, Ky., Feb. 26, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS —

Dear Sir,—I write to say that seven bottles of your Vegetine have completely cured me from a very severe case of Scrofula, of many years' standing, after trying many medicines and doctoring a great deal. I am now free from all sores, and can work as well as ever, and think the Vegetine is a god-send, and no one ought to do without it.

I remain, respectfully yours,
J. A. PATRICK.

Vegetine is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula, and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

VEGETINE.

Druggists Recommend it.

VINCENNES, Ind., 1876.

H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—We have sold Vegetine for several years, and it has given our patrons general satisfaction. Every one speaks well of it.

Respectfully, MOORE & HARRIS,
Wholesale and Retail Druggists,
Main St., Vincennes.

Vegetine is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

In politics the papers will continue to advocate and uphold the Principles of the Republican Party, while claiming to be Independent, in the highest and best sense of the word. Fearless and outspoken in the treatment of all public questions and firmly maintaining what they believe to be right, they will avoid intolerance and make their appeals to the understanding rather than to prejudice. The year about to open will be fruitful of unusually important political events bearing upon the future of our country, and it will be our aim to afford our readers the earliest and most reliable information and to favor only such measures and policy as will best protect the rights and promote the welfare of all the people.

HOME INTERESTS,

as affected by the development of the resources of Maine, will receive special attention, and whatever is calculated to stimulate or benefit

AGRICULTURE AND MANUFACTURES

in the State will be heartily encouraged. We rigidly exclude from our columns everything of an immoral tendency, avoid sensational matter and seek to make a thoroughly reliable paper which will be sure of Welcome in Every Family Circle.

To advertisers our columns open one of the best fields in New England, our circulation being the largest of any paper in this section, among the best classes of the people, and as our Daily issue affords the principal medium of communication with a large and constantly increasing number of readers, throughout Central and Eastern Maine.

The Only Morning Daily East of the Kennebec,

OUR WEEKLY

is also the largest and best Weekly Newspaper in the State. Every number accompanied by a twopage Supplement, making a paper of FORTY EIGHT columns, or one-half larger than any other Weekly. It is a standard publication, with large and constantly increasing circulation among the most intelligent and thrifty of the population of Eastern Maine, and the small space devoted to advertising is eagerly sought by the best class of a trade.

LETTER CARRIERS.

All letters are delivered free by carriers when addressed to street and number. People should inform their correspondents of above and have their letters addressed accordingly.

Persons leaving their address at the General Delivery can also have their letters sent, but it is much more convenient to have the street and number on, and they will be delivered earlier than if the same is put on at the office. Carriers make two deliveries daily, the first trip supplying the extremes of their routes.

Collections are made morning and evening in season for important mails—the down town boxes fifteen and the up town boxes thirty minutes before closing mails at the office.

Holidays the Carrier's Window will be open for the delivery of letters from 8½ to 9½ A. M., and from 7½ to 8 P. M. Sundays from 8½ to 9½ A. M.

Any irregularities in the Carriers' department should be reported to the office.

ENVELOPES.

No additional charge will be made for printing the name and request to return, across the left hand upper corner of the envelopes furnished by the Post Office Department, (samples of which may be seen at the Cashier's window, when ordered in lots of not less than 500.

A request for the return of a letter to the writer, if unclaimed within thirty days, or less, written or printed, with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with.

The public are earnestly recommended to procure Stamped envelopes with printed return request, as the expense is less, and letters thus endorsed, if not delivered to the person addressed, are returned to the writer free of charge.

First class envelopes of above furnished at $22.50 per thousand.

Stamps cut from Stamped Envelopes cannot be used to prepay postage. The use of such Stamps is punishable by a fine of fifty dollars.

Stamped Envelopes, spoiled in directing, are redeemed at this office.
